Der Airbus A380 der Singapore Airlines landete nach rund 12 Stunden Non-Stop Flug in Singapur Changi, wo ein Privattaxi uns zum Hotel Carlton brachte. Glücklicherweise konnten wir unser Zimmer bereits beziehen. Erschöpft begann der erste Tag unseres Stop-Overs in der Millionenstadt mit ihren Wolkenkratzern. Nach einem kurzen Ausruhen begaben wir uns auf eine Stadtrundfahrt. Am Nachmittag benutzten wir eine Bootsrundfahrt zwecks Überblick und Ausruhen. Allerdings war das tropisch feuchte und heiße Klima gewöhnungsbedürftig und alles ging etwas langsamer als bei uns zu Hause.

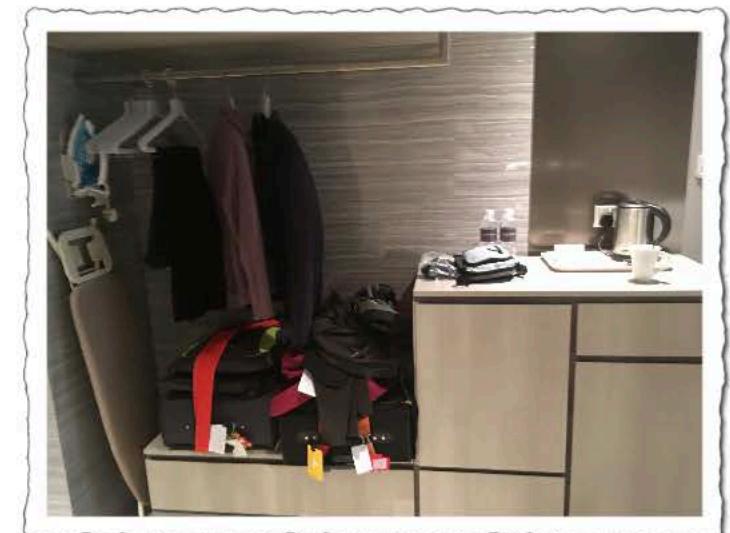

Endlich war es soweit.

Nachdem wir den Prius zwecks Reparatur der Stoßstange in Saland abgegeben hatten, begann unsere Reise ans andere Ende der Welt in Saland. Via Flughafenbahnhof checkten wir - wie üblich - viel zu früh ein.
